

Miniature circus delights children of all ages.

All the magic of the Big Top, in tabletop size, has been captured through a woodcarver's genius. This amazing miniature circus is the work of the late Milton Kalmer of Quincy. Over a span of more than twenty years, Kalmer and his wife Melva devoted countless hours to its creation.

Fourth grade class with parents typify the many school groups from Illinois and Missouri attending the Museum for educational tours. Also, research assignments about Museum exhibits are given for extra scholastic credit by teachers. Educators hope to make the Museum an increasingly important vehicle for learning.
